Grand opening of Aquametro's new office in Singapore

Today the team from Aquametro Oil & Marine (S.E.A.) and esteemed guests gathered to witness the opening ceremony of our new office in Singapore.

Adding a touch of cultural richness to the event, the ceremony included a traditional lion dance performance. The vibrant colors, rhythmic movements, and the synchronized acrobatics of the lion dancers brought a sense of auspiciousness and prosperity to the occasion. The lion dance, deeply rooted in Chinese tradition, served as a gesture to acknowledge the cultural diversity of Singapore - illustrating the harmony between modernity and tradition.

As the beats of drums and cymbals echoed through the contemporary corridors, the lion dancers energetically weaved their way through the office spaces, symbolically warding off evil spirits and ushering in good luck for the new venture.

During the celebrations the team members mingled with guests, fostering a sense of camaraderie and collaboration.

In his inaugural address, the CEO of the Aquametro Group, Axel Schulz, expressed gratitude for the support received from the Aquametro team in Singapore. AOM (S.E.A.) is a solid pillar of the Aquametro Group he emphasized, highlighting its significance for the Asian market and R&D activities. The number of clients and addresses using the services of AOM (S.E.A.) is amazing and the performance on 24/7 service is exemplary for the whole maritime community.

Ms Sabrina Lim, CEO of Aquametro Oil & Marine SEA, stated: "It has been a meaningful and exciting year for Aquametro Oil & Marine (S.E.A.). Together with the inauguration of the new office in Singapore and upcoming festive season of New Lunar Year, we take this opportunity to thank the esteemed customers, colleagues in China, Germany, Switzerland, India, Korea and Japan and vendors who have supported us to make 2023 a successful year, with many more successes to come!

We particularly like to thank the customers who attended this inauguration and those who send well wishes in their busy schedule as well as our CEO, Mr. Axel Schulz, who has flown in from Germany to honor this special occasion!

We are optimistic about our future and the challenges ahead and will continue to provide best service to the Southeast Asian Regions."

The office, designed to foster collaboration and creativity, promises to be a hub for forward-thinking professionals. We look forward to welcoming customers and visitors to our new premises at the following address:
